Our Client Base

Our Process

Weeks	Process	Number of Candidates	Benefit For Our Client
Week 1	Creation of a detailed candidate briefing pack so candidates can be correctly informed about the position and your business.	100 - 150 people	We provide a detailed written summary to appropriate candidates. They will make an informed decision on whether they would like to consider working for you, in this role. This ensures Assistant Sydney and our client are thoroughly focused and consistent on the position and the candidate skills required. We take this candidate pack to candidates on our database, and candidates that we actively engage with as a result of this process.
Week 1	Job advertisement is approved and posted on all major job boards.	100 - 150 people	We don't rely purely on Seek advertising. We don't rely purely on LinkedIn advertising. Our job is to target the best candidates on market for your position, and influence them in wanting to work for you. Advertising however, still remains a relevant search tool in 2020.
Week 1	Creation of a headhunting search list of potential people for the position.	50+ people	We will actively approach any candidate with a relevant skill-set, working in a key competitor or similar minded business, where legal constraints do not apply (for example if we are on contract with an organisation – we will not headhunt from them).
Weeks 1-2	Interviewing and assessment of targeted candidates by Assistant Sydney.	20+ people	We will conduct a thorough interview with any candidate that communicates interest in the position and possesses the relevant skill set in contrast to the key skills required for the role. In interview, Assistant Sydney assess short and long term career motivators, and ensure candidates are committed to the opportunity.
Weeks 1-2	Presentation of shortlist quality candidates.	4 - 6 people	We do not compromise on quality to highlight our candidates to you in a timely matter. To the reverse, we will inform you immediately of any high quality suitable candidates that you should engage with prior to our identified search shortlist timeframe.
Weeks 1-2	First stage client interview with candidates and immediate feedback process.	4 - 6 people	Our clients interview between four and six people who are deemed to be suitable for the position. Assistant Sydney provides immediate feedback to the client on the candidates experience so that you are informed on progress in real time.
Weeks 1-2	Second stage client interview with final preferred candidates.	2 - 3 people	Our client will hold a second meeting with the preferred candidates.
Weeks 2-3	Final stage client interview is held with the preferred candidate, or top two candidates.	1 - 2 people	Our client will hold a final meeting with the preferred candidate/s.
Weeks 2-3	Salary package confirmation, reference checks, police checks and offer and acceptance with preferred candidate.	1 person	We assist our client with the necessary compliance and negotiation with the preferred candidate.

* This is based on a typical permanent recruitment process but will vary depending on the role
